

MAPs will help you set up a path to independence in your community.

The first step is to find things in the community that you like and build a Virtual Community Resource Map (VCRM).

You will work with a specially trained MAPs case manager known as an Innovation Coordinator and MAPs provider to create your own VCRM.

The VCRM will identify the people, places, and activities that are important to you.

It will include your independence goals at home, at work, and in your community, and your plan to reach these goals.

You will be able to access your map on your own cell phone, tablet, or computer, or a device provided through the program.

With your VCRM, you will

- Get to know where things are in your community
- Build a daily schedule so you can get to school and/or work
- Learn how to travel in your community
- Find opportunities in the community so you can meet new people and activities that interest you
- Find resources so you can explore new interests and goals
